AHLA's Speaking of Health Law Podcast

Daniel Sternthal speaks on the American Health Law Association podcast, "AHLA's Speaking of Health Law" on April 20th. The episode will focus on the following topics:

Show Notes: In this podcast, Daniel Sternthal (Shareholder, Munsch Hardt), April Diaz (Vice President of Clinical Services, Marquis Companies) and Darrell Zurovec (General Counsel, Touchstone Communities) discuss how long term care facilities are dealing with the COVID-19 pandemic. The podcast discusses how facilities are dealing with pressing issues such as how to manage memory care units in light of the pandemic, how to minimize risk, staff issues, and navigating the patchwork of regulations from the federal, state, and local governments. From AHLA's Post-Acute and Long Term Services Practice Group.
