Munsch Hardt Promotes Dallas Real Estate Attorney to Shareholder

05.01.16

Munsch Hardt is proud to announce the promotion of attorney Aryn Self to shareholder, effective May 1. Self work in the Dallas office and is an active member of the Real Estate practice group.

“As one of the largest real estate sections in the Southwest, the attorneys in this practice group work tirelessly to deliver significant results on major projects for our clients,” said Phil Appenzeller, CEO of Munsch Hardt Kopf & Harr. “Aryn’s steadfast dedication to the firm, this practice group and her clients has not gone unnoticed and we are pleased to name her as a Munsch Hardt Shareholder.”

Self’s practice includes all aspects of real estate development, financing and acquisitions, including the acquisition of undeveloped and improved land. She assists clients in all development matters required for their particular projects, and focuses primarily on multi-family development, retail centers and multi-use developments. Self is accustomed to partnering with developers, investors, construction companies, and management companies to address all commercial real estate needs. She also remains active with industry organizations such as The Real Estate Counsel (TREC) and Downtown Dallas, Inc.
